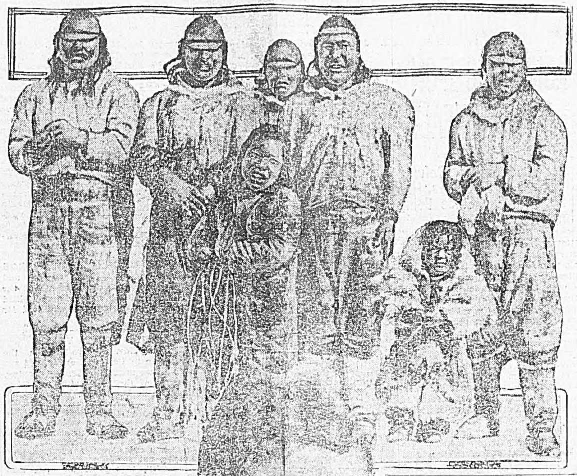
STEAMER KARLUK, ALL ON BOARD, PROBABLY WRECKED

EXPLORER STEFANSSON AND THE WHITE ESQUIMAUX.



NOTHING SEEN OR HEARD OF THEM SINCE AUGUST 14

Purpose of Expedition was to Learn if There is Any Land Between Alaska and the North Pole—Was Financed by the Dominion Government—Encountered Very Heavy Weather Off Alaskan Coast.

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Vilhjalmar Stefansson, Arctic explorer and discoverer of the white Eskimo, who was aboard the steamer Karluk when that vessel was last sighted off Flexman Island, on August 14, possibly is lost, as is the vessel and all of her people.

Nothing has been seen or heard of the Karluk since that date, despite the fact that extensive search has been made for her.

Sailed on June 17.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 18.—Stefansson sailed from Victoria, B.C., on June 17 last. On July 1 he left Seattle for the north with his outfit. At this time in a message to Canada and United States he complained that the purpose of his expedition had been variously misrepresented in papers on this continent.

The real purpose, he said, was to explore the vast space between Alaska and the pole and ascertain if there were any land. Should there be any, he said, he was almost sure that it would be uninhabited, but if any form of human beings were found they would in all likelihood be Esquimaux.

Financed by Canada.

The expedition was financed by the Canadian government and exclusive of crew was the largest ever sent on either north or south polar explorations.

Stefansson's last message to civilization was sent from Teller, Alaska, via Nome and Seattle, on July 28. In this he states: "No fear need be felt for the Karluk if she is not heard from for two years," and that the prospects were good and the men in good spirits. Following is the text of his message: "The Karluk and the Mary Sache sailed from Port Clarence about midnight on Saturday. The Alaska will follow in four days and may overtake us near Herschell Island about the middle of August.

Fifteen Scientists.

"There are 15 scientists and 22 other men, captains and crews on the three vessels. The outfit is complete for two years and may be made to last longer.

"No fear need be felt for the Karluk if she is not heard from for two years, the Alaska and the Mary Sache should be heard from twice yearly, in October by whalers through Behring Straits, and in January by the mounted police through Dawson.

"The equipment is satisfactory, the men are in good spirits and the prospects good.

(Signed) Vilhjalmar Stefansson."

Captain a Newfoundlander.

Captain Robert Abraham Bartlett, who was in command of the Kariuk, was born at Brigus, Newfoundland, in 1875, joining his father at codfishing when 19 years old and becoming captain of a fishing schooner two years later. He joined Peary in 1897 and was with him on each of his three expeditions. Between 1897 and 1909 Captain Bartlett had command of the Algerne and on another occasion the Arctic, making trips to Baffins Bay, Jones Sound and North Devon Island. He has medals from the English, Italian, National and Philadelphia geographical societies.

The Scientists.

Born at Hamilton in 1887, George Stewart Hallock graduated from Queens university Kingston, being later apointed assistant geologist to the geological survey. In 1910 he had charge of topographical survey work at Stewart, B. C. He joined the Stefansson expedition as chief geological and topographer, with the northern party.

John Johnston, O'Neill, who was born at Port Colborne, in 1886, graduated from McGill university in 1909. He received a fellowship from Yale university. He is on the permanent staff of the geological survey of Canada and is in charge of the geological work with the southern party.

Kenneth Jordan Chipman who was in charge of the geographical work of the southern party, was born at Berwick, Nova Scotia in 1884, and graduated from the institute of technology, Boston, later joining the geological survey of Canada.

Encountered Heavy Weather.

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Whalers say there is little hope of her ever being discovered as she is known to have encountered the heavy weather which prevailed off the Alaskan coast early in October.

This is the opinion of the members of the Canadian Arctic exploration party at Collision Point, according to a message to Fairbanks today. Stefansson left Victoria last summer with an expedition outfitted to make exploration and scientific research along the northern coast of the American continent.

Not Credited on Coast.

Vancouver, Nov. 18—The reported loss of the Stefannson party is not credited here. There is no reason for believing that disaster occurred except for absence of news, which really means nothing. The party was well equipped in every way, and its commander and lieutenants were all experienced in Arctic exploration, while their craft was a stout ship, well suited to any and all ice conditions that might be encountered.

NEW COMPANY TO DRILL FOR GAS NEAR EDMONTON

[illegible]s Land and Development Ltd., Will Bore Twelve [illegible]undred Foot Well.

Provincial Library Aug 1 19

T[illegible] Land and Development company [illegible] with offices at 210-211 Good[illegible]lding, have announced their intent[illegible]lling a 1,200 foot well on their U[illegible]perty. Work will be commenced [illegible]oon as the outfit can be put in place. The well-known contracting firm of Channel and Newcom will have charge of the work.

Uncas is located near Cooking Lake, 23 miles east of Edmonton, on the G.T.P. railway.

R. C. Sheedy, manager of the company, says he is absolutely certain that there is plenty of gas in this locality. In fact, he is of the opinion that the Bow Island people were alluding to this district when they submitted their offer to the city.

When asked why his company did not submit an offer, Mr. Sheedy said: "Our company is not in a position to enter into a contract at this time. Neither are we looking from any assistance from the city. If we get gas in marketable quantities it will be the result of our own efforts, and we do not anticipate any difficulty in disposing of it.

For the past 12 months we have made a close study of the Uncas district, and we have seen many indications of gas, coal and oil.

"I do not believe the public will ratify the council's agreement with the Pelican Gas company, as there are too many people acquainted with the district lying to the east of Edmonton."

CECIL M'DOUGALL ON TRIAL ON A CHARGE OF FRAUD

Complaint Alleges That He Secured Money by False Pretenses.

A case of considerable interest to the real estate dealers of the city is staged in the district court today before Judge Taylor. The accused is a young man named Cecil McDougall, who is well-known in Edmonton and in the surrounding district. There are two charges against McDougall, the first being that he did at Edmonton on or about February 29, 1912, by false pretenses procure from John E. Bagley the sum of $11 with intent to defraud, and the second that at Edmonton on or about March 4, 1912, he did procure from J. A. Trudeau the sum of $222.50 with intent to defraud.

Accused pleaded not guilty to both charges, and was defended by Mr. Joseph A. Clarke.

All the trouble arose in connection with lot 29-88, Norwood, the first complainant having paid a deposit on the lot while Mr. Trudeau not only paid a deposit, but also made the first payment.

In the witness box, Mr. Trudeau stated that he identified the accused as the man with whom he had had dealings over the Norwood lot in question, and this despite the fact that the two checks he had given had been made out in the name of Russell A. McDougall and not Cecil McDougall, the real name of the accused. Mr. Trudeau further alleged that the accused had called at his office early in March, and had offered to sell him the lot in Norwood for $600. He had agreed to this, and on the first occasion of their meeting he gave accused as a deposit a check for $10 and a day or two later made the first payment of $212.50 also by check. He never met accused again until seven months later when he saw him in the police court. From inquiry he had learned at the land titles office that McDougall had never been the owner of the property referred to, and this statement was corroborated in court by the registrar, who produced documents making it clear that no party of the name of McDougall had ever owned the land.

Mr. Clarke, in his cross-examination of Mr. Trudeau, got the latter to admit that McDougall had never actually said that he owned the land, but Mr. Trudeau was certain that McDougall had assured him that there would be no difficulty in handing the title over to him. Mr. Clarke also put a number of questions as to the personal appearance of the man to whom Mr. Trudeau had given the checks.

"NO RENT" STRIKE.

London, Nov. 18.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, addressing an open air meeting at Bow last night, announced that the next suffragist campaign would be a "no rent strike" among the working women of London.

BREDIN NOMINATED.

Selkirk, Man., Nov. 18.—A. B. Bredin was selected at a liberal rally here yesterday to oppose Dr. Montague, minister of public works, in the forthcoming provincial by-election in Kildonan and St. Andrew.

FIVE HUNDRED MILES OF CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

Vast Amount of Work Done in Edmonton During Past Season.

The city of Edmonton has now over 500 miles of improvements, including street railway tracks, water and sewer mains, paving, concrete and plank walks, etc. The city has an area of 26,560 acres and represents a territory equal to 41.5 square miles. For the benefit of its readers, the Daily Capital has compiled the following table of the improvements, which, while not complete in every detail, are as nearly accurate as it is possible to get at this time:

	Completed 1913 Miles	T't'l to date Miles
Trunk and lateral sewers	26.1	110.1
Water mains	27.4	126.4
Paving	22.2	41.574
Boulevarding	10.304	29.652
Street railway tracks	23.	50.
Concrete walks	10.884	35.262
Plank walks	16.943
Grading	10.504	99.694
Telephone conduits		18.2
Electric light conduits	.269	.269
Total	157.804	511.151

With the exception of water and sewer, practically all other local improvements have been completed for this year. While trunk sewers and laterals put down this year total 26.1 miles, yet the program as planned at the beginning of the year represents 36.3 miles. Water mains to the extent of 27.4 miles have been laid, but the program provides for the laying of 35.7 miles. In both cases work is being continued and no curtailment of these two prime necessities will be allowed.

In the case of plank walks it has been impossible to get the total mileage laid up to date, as in many cases temporary walks have been laid by private citizens and these are not recorded in the departments.

HIGH LEVEL CARS TO RUN ON FIVE-MINUTE SCHEDULE

Will Give Adequate Service to McKernan's Lake for Skaters' Accommodation.

That the public may be given an adequate service to McKernan's Lake all high level bridge cars will run on a five minute schedule from 3.30 p.m. as late as the traffic demands this service. Passengers may either get off at Fifth street west and Whyte avenue and walk to the lake in five minutes, or they can take the low level cars, which run direct to the lake on a 15-minute service. Commencing tomorrow, signs reading "Good Skating on the Lake" will be displayed on many of the cars on the system.

In speaking of the new schedule now in effect, Traffic Superintendent T. M. Hedden, stated today that it is working out as well as could be expected. The one line where the public seem to be having the most difficulty is the Norwood Belt Line. On this belt the cars run in both directions and even if passengers do take the car running in the opposite direction, they will get to their destination anyhow, as the car will eventually get around the loop. The route is up First street, thence along Norwood Boulevard to Kirkness, to Alberta, to John, to Spruce, to Kirkness, to Syndicate, to Jasper and First street, and visa versa. The cars are marked "Alberta" on the curtain signs and the new street names are placed on the green signs in front of cars.

The traffic superintendent also stated today that for the benefit of the public a telephone box is being built at the corner of First street and Jasper avenue. A public telephone will be installed and an inspector kept at this point from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. He will be in touch with every car in the service as they all pass this point. If the general public want any information about the schedules or any other information relative to the operation of the street car system all they have to do is to speak to the inspector, who will 'phone direct to the car barns if he has not the information asked for at his finger ends. This public 'phone should be of material advantage to the citizens in assisting them to get acquainted with the new schedules.

WILL BE TRIED TODAY.

Saskatoon, Nov. 18.—J. C. Scarth, of Brookholme, Ont., and Jas. Kelly, of Peterboro, Ont., alleged to be two of the gang of five safe blowers who have been operating in the west, and who were arrested here November 6, are to be tried this morning at the police court for carrying explosives and firearms.

STEAMER CANADA WILL REPLACE ROYAL EDWARD

Will Undergo Government Inspection—Special Christmas Boat Train.

The Capital was informed yesterday by the C.N.R. officials that their liner, the Royal Edward, which was due to sail December 3, has been withdrawn, owing to the fact that she has to undergo the annual governmental inspection at that time.

The s.s. Canada has been chartered in the place of the Royal Edward. The Canada is a one-cabin boat of 10,000 tons and has a good reputation both for comfort and speed.

In keeping with the policy of the other two transcontinental roads doing business out of Edmonton, the C.N.R. will run a special train from this city on November 28 at 9.10 p.m. to connect with the Canada.

Forty-five whales, yielding products valued at $630,000, were killed during the first weeks of the 1913 whaling season in the North Pacific.

COBB IS NOT GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury Unanimous on Verdict and Render Decision From Their Seats.

"Not guilty," was the verdict that the jury returned yesterday in the case of Elijah Cobb, who was charged with manslaughter.

The jury did not retire, as they were unanimous in agreeing that there was not sufficient evidence to convict the accused.

The greater part of the day had been taken up in hearing the witnesses, the prisoner being keenly interested in all that was said.

When he was acquitted he could hardly contain himself for joy. He wrung the hand of each one of the jurymen and then turned to shake that of the judge. But Justice Beck did not shake hands.

The wife of the accused was anxiously awaiting the verdict and as soon as she heard that her husband was a free man again she fell on his neck and kissed him.

MEXICAN CONGRESS ORGANIZED FORMAL OPENING ON THURSDAY

Mexican Ports May Be Blockaded by United States

President Wilson May be Content With Such Action Until Open Rupture Occurs—United States Representative Has Parley With Carranza.

Congress Organized.

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—Organization of President Huerta's new congress was completed late yesterday, when enough senators were gathered to form a quorum in the upper house. Gen. Francisco Pronces was chosen temporary chairman of the senate and a committee on credentials was appointed.

A similar committee of the chamber of deputies yesterday began the work of revising the deputies' credentials, and there is nothing to indicate that the formal opening of the congress next Thursday would be postponed. President Huerta talked last night informally to the members of his staff and a few personal friends regarding the possibilities of the intervention by the United States. He intimated he would be ready to resist such a step.

Will Blockade Ports.

The opinion is expressed in various circles here that the United States will soon inaugurate a blockade of the Mexican ports. Rumor has it that President Wilson would be content with such an action, and might even permit the embassy to remain in Mexico City until an open rupture occurred. The German minister, Admiral Von Hintze, summoned to the legation last night the heads of more important German commercial houses, and asked them to give him inventories of shipments expected. He explained that he would then be in a position better to guard their interests in case of a blockade.

Going to Paris.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 18.—Manuel Garsa Aldalpe, who recently resigned his office as minister of the interior in the Mexican cabinet, arrived here yesterday morning from Mexico City and went on board the steamer Espagne, accompanied by his wife and children. He was escorted to the quay by the local officials.

In reply to questions he would only say he was proceeding to Paris to take up his duties as Mexican minister to France.

Canadian Capital Threatened.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 18.—Gen. Francisco Villa threatened yesterday to take over the Mexican Northwestern railway, a property owned by Canadian capitalists, if the officials did not themselves immediately repair and operate the line. The railway line has been destroyed by both rebels and federals, and has not been in operation for several months. At a conference with Villa yesterday the railway officials decided to begin repairing the line, instead of permitting it to be confiscated by the rebels. Loans amounting to about $100,000 were made to Gen. Villa at Juarez yesterday by the two banks of that city. Villa gave the bankers assurances that he would refund the money to them if the revolt was successful. The money was used in paying off the rebel troops, and buying uniforms and provisions.

A full report of the executions in Juarez within the last few days at the order of Gen. Villa was forwarded to the war department yesterday by United States army officers.

Nogales, Sonora, Nov. 18.—Obstacles developed since the fall of Juarez created a feeling of uncertainty tonight as to the outcome of the diplomatic exchange between the United States and the Mexican constitutionalist rebels.

President Wilson's representative, Wm. Bayard Hale, conferred twice today with Fransico Escuadero, Carranza's minister of foreign relations.

It was evident that the capture of Juarez and other rebel successes in the interior had encouraged General Carranza's leaders to such an extent that they believed the lifting of the American embargo on the importation of arms was not as necessary as it previously seemed.

Parley Reaches Crucial Stage.

On the other hand, it appeared that the original expectation of the insurgents that the ban on the transfer of war munitions across the line would be lifted had been met with more definite requirements from the Washington government. The parley between Mr. Hale and General Carranza and the latter's representatives reached a crucial stage last night. After a conference with Mr. Hale late tonight the foreign minister said he expected the negotiations to end within 24 hours, but he would venture no predictions as to the outcome. He added, however, that there would be another meeting, perhaps the final one, tomorrow. Since last night communications to Mr. Hale from Washington have been unusually long. It required the entire staff of

NERVOUS ENERGY IS LIMITED

There is only so much energy in the human body. A few people have an abundance, but more have not enough. Hence the necessity of conserving vitality.

If wasted by mode of living, disease or worry there must be a reckoning, and trouble is sure to come. It may be headaches and weak, aching eyes; it may be nervous indigestion, or it may be merely lack of energy and ambition, and feelings of fatigue or helplessness. Of course, sooner or later exhaustion of the nerves leads to prostration, paralysis or locomotor ataxia, but there is no need to let the trouble develop that far.

By using Dr. Chases Nerve Food you can restore to the feeble, wasted nerve cells the energy they have lost. It will take some effort on your part to give up worry and anxiety, but you should realize your serious condition. Rest and use this great food cure and you are bound to improve in health and vigor.

FRANCES WALTERS INMATE OF B.C. BROTHEL, SUICIDES

Inmate of Alexander Street in Vancouver Takes Dutch Way Out by Gas Route.

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—Despondency is said by the police to have prompted Frances Walters, 25 years old, to take her life at 6626 Alexander street, by asphyxiating herself. Her dead body was found by inmates of the house lying on the bed face downwards. The gas had been turned on and the windows of the room securely fastened. The deceased came nine days ago from Cleveland, Ohio.

Calgary, Nov. 18.—The first snowstorm of the season came today and the prairies around Calgary are covered with a blanket of several inches. It comes too late to be of any damage, as practically all of the wheat is threshed and much of it is marketed.

BIG CRACKS ON HAND AND FINGERS

Eczema for Three Years. Broke Out on Head in Scales. Itched and Burned Badly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Lyons Brook, N. S.—"I suffered with eczema for three years. It started on my hands first in sores between my fingers and all over the palms of my hand and fingers were big cracks. Then it broke out on my head in scales. It itched and burned so badly I could not sleep. It was so itching and burning that I scratched and made sores and my hair came out awfully bad. I did not know what it was.

"I was treated for a long time and it did not do any good. I gave up my work for a month but as soon as I started doing my house-work again my hands got just as bad as ever. I used two bottles of —— and it did not do any good. One day I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to try them. I sent for a sample and I used them till I saw it stopped the itching and burning, so I got three cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and that cured me." (Signed) Mrs. P. J. McKearney, May 27, 1913.

Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczemas and other distressing eruptions of skin and scalp, but no other emollients do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins, itching, scaly scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeless nails, nor do it so economically. DISSATISFACTION EXISTS AMONG STREET CAR MEN

Trades and Labor Council Appoints Committee to Protest Against Petty Tyranny on Part of New Official—Municipal Elections; Low Wages for Garment Workers.

At a short but very lively meeting of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, held last night in the Mechanics' hall, Third street, by far the most important item of business was the discussion of the trouble at present existing between the Edmonton radial railway and its men.

Two delegates from the Street Railway Men's Union gave a resume of all that had occurred within the last two weeks since the last meeting of the council.

Street Railway Grievances.

That there may be strife and bitterness in street railway circles if oil is not soon poured on the troubled waters, is the opinion of the men's delegates and of the council in general.

One of the delegates, in a talk with the Capital reporter, described some of the causes of the trouble.

Heddon Causes Trouble.

"It all began," said the delegate, "when Mayor Short brought that man Heddon from Spokane five or six weeks ago, and had him put in as traffic superintendent. Ever since he came we have been harrassed by a multitude of petty acts of discipline. Why, only a few days ago a conductor was suspended for 10 days because he walked through his car and shovelled in a couple of shovelfuls of coal. Another man was suspended for the same length of time because he had not collected a fare from a little girl riding on his car."

Spotters At Work.

"But how could such a small detail reach the ears of the traffic superintendent?" asked the Capital.

"Spotters, of course," replied the delegate. "And that's another thing the men are sore about, because the superintendent promised the men some time ago there should be no more spotters on Edmonton street cars—whereas today we know that there is at least 20 spotters at work on the cars."

The whole grievance was crystallized into the form of a resolution, adopted at last night's meeting.

Resolution Adopted.

After reciting the reasons for taking such a step the resolutions concludes with the words: "

"Resolved, That a committee be appointed to wait on the mayor and commissioners and lay this matter before them, so that an amicable settlement can be arrived at."

This committee is to be composed of the business agents of the various local unions and will wait on the civic fathers some day this week. It is the intention of this committee simply to present the following petition, drawn up by the Street Railway Men's Union, which tells their story in a clear and graphic manner.

The Petition.

The petition which is to be brought to the attention of the mayor and commissioners is as follows:

"To the mayor and aldermen of the city of Edmonton:

"We the undersigned petition your honorable body to investigate the conditions as put forth in this petition: The grievances that we are desirous of drawing your attention to are as follows.

"First—The present traffic superintendent has adopted a system of suspensions for trivial offences which we consider too severe, the result of which is causing much dissatisfaction amongst the men. During the past month some of our men have suffered about 120 days off and three have been dismissed, the suspensions ranging around three, five and ten days for having slept in. And on another occasion the crime was doubting a passenger paying his fare, and a number of like offences.

"Second—We would also draw your attention to the appointment of an inspector in charge of students, we feel that we have been treated unjustly, seeing that the one who has been appointed comes with no recommendations and his service in the city's employ being ninety days as a checker of material. He has never conducted or run a car for the city. We feel that since there are men who have been in the service of the city for five years and their record is clear for that period, their services should have been recognized by promotion. A committee who waited on Mr. Heddon were informed that he would give promotion to motormen and conductors. Having these impressions we think that we have been dealt with unfairly through promotions being given to outsiders. This also violates a clause in our agreement which states that citizens shall be given preference."

Municipal Elections.

From the secretary's report of the activities of the committee on elections, it was learned that at a conference held a few days ago between Mr. McNamara and Labor Candidate Kinney, the latter had received from Mr. McNamara the assurance that the fair wage clause would be included as a plank in his platform. The committee was not desirous of being quoted as favoring any particular candidate for mayor until the various delegates on the committee have consulted their respective locals and have received endorsation of their action. Labor's position on this question will be announced in a few days.

Mass Meeting.

It was also decided to hold one large mass meeting at least during the campaign, providing a large hall can be secured which is not too expensive.

No public meeting nowadays seems complete without some reference to those two nightmares of the wage-earner: "Hard-Times" and "High Cost of Living."

A visiting member of one of the local unions was permitted to put a question to the delegate of the Garment Workers' Union.

"I should like to ask," said the visitor, "if it is customary for garment workers to be paid by the piece?"

"Yes," repied the delegate; "we are paid by the piece, but the price is fixed by the chief executive council for the whole union, i.e., a minimum is fixed for all union shops."

Pretty Low Wages.

"Well, I only wished to know," continued his questioner, "because, to my knowledge, many of my acquaintances who are garment workers are making from 30 to 50 per cent. less than they made last year. Some, in fact, are living on as little as six and even four dollars a week."

To this revelation an answer was reserved in order that the representative of the garment workers' might have an opportunity of investigating and preparing a reply.

CHILD HAD BRONCHITIS

Once people get acquainted with the wonderful control which Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine exerts over bronchitis, whooping cough, croup and colds it is not easy to persuade them that anything else is "just as good." This is why the imitators never get very far.

In 1902 Mrs. Eugene Ier, King street, Truro, N.S., wrote as follows: "From an infant one of my children was troubled with bronchitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We could not get anything to help him, and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis, we used it and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine, and have never known it to fail to bring relief."

Mrs. Ier now writes that she has since proven this medicine to be a cure for whooping cough, and would not be without it in the house.

BANKER TRAVERS ASKS PAROLE ON ACCOUNT HEALTH

Former Manager of Defunct Bank, Doing Six Years, Has Failed Rapidly Since Being Imprisoned.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Wm. R. Travers, former manager of the defunct Farmers Bank, who is serving time in Kingston penitentiary for operations in connection with that institution has applied to the parole officer at Ottawa for his parole. Travers has spent about two years and a half in the prison and he has failed rapidly. He is said to be broken in health and on this account has made his application.

Travers was sentenced in January 1911 to six years. Of this term he has now served over two years at Kingston, because he spent about six months in Toronto at the hearing of the other officials of the wrecked bank.

The ex-bank manager has aged considerable in the past few months. He has lost a great deal of flesh and is said to be hardly recognizable as the robust man who entered the institution two years ago.

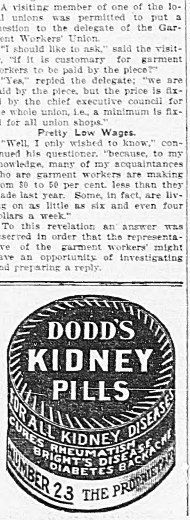
DIAMOND SHIPMENTS LIMITED

Berlin, Nov. 18.—The German government today placed a limit on the quantity of the diamonds which German Africa may put on the market. The large production of the mines there had threatened to bring about a break in the prices.

German producers hitherto had favored holding their syndicate to its contract to take the entire output from German Africa, but the government converted to the policy adopted by the British diamond trust of withholding stones from the market in diamonds and thus maintain the prices.

MANITOBA ARCHITECTS.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 18.—At the annual meeting last night on the Manitoba Association of Architects, held in the association's clubrooms, the retiring president, William Fingland, presented the annual address, and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, H. F. Matthews; first vice-president, J. B. Mitchell; 2nd vice-president, Donald Ross; secretary, R. G. Hanford.



MAIL CLERKS OF PRAIRIES MEET IN CALGARY

Salary Question Main Reason for Meeting—Will Urge Government for Substantial Increase.

Calgary, Nov. 18—Mail clerks from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are in Calgary attending a meeting of the Railway Mail Clerks' Federation. The first session was held yesterday morning. The salary question is the main subject for consideration, and it is the intention of the federation to strongly urge the dominion government to increase the provisional allowance from $120 to $180 per year. The clerks find that the increased cost of living in the west demands an increase of salary, and it is their purpose to agitate for a raise at the next session of the parliament at Ottawa.

EXPLAINS USES OF THE CONSULAR SERVICE

J. Jerico-Broderick Addressing Many Gatherings in Ontario.

Montreal, Nov. 18—Amplifying what he told the members of the Ottawa Club Saturday about the uses that might be made by Canadians of the British consular service, J. Jerico-Broderick, former acting consul at New York, and now consul at Amsterdam, yesterday addressed a large audience of the Montreal Canadian Club.

Today Mr. Broderick will speak before the Political Science Club of Queen's University, at Kingston, and then before the Canadian Clubs at, Nov. 19, Peterboro; Nov. 20, Belleville; 21, Hamilton; 24 and 25, Toronto; 26, London; 27, Chatham; 28, St. Catharines.

NO EGGS IN SIGHT, SAY DAIRY MEN

"Ham and—" Will Become Obsolete in Restaurants—Butter Skyward, Too.

"There are simply no eggs in sight." This was the bombshell that was hurled into the domestic camp last night by W. W. Prevey, manager of the City Dairy company, in a talk with the press yesterday.

Mr. Prevey then went on to say that his firm had been even importing eggs from Chicago, Minneapolis and various dairy centres in Nebraska, but that the supply from these places is also being gradually shut off. Even the much abused cold-storage is almost depleted.

"So you see," said Mr. Prevey, "the old standby 'ham and,' seems to be about to disappear from the restaurant menus. The retail price is now 40 cents, and this will likely advance to 60 cents and over for strictly fresh eggs. This condition will prevail until February, when the new supplies will be available."

Shortage of Butter.

There was about as little consolation forthcoming on the subject of butter as of eggs. There will be a shortage of butter this year, and prices will rise in proportion, a state of affairs, however, which Mr. Prevey thinks need not be repeated in the future, as more and more the farmers of Edmonton district are going in for mixed farming.

"This year," he said, "there was an increase of 25 per cent. over last year's output, and I am convinced there will be the same increase next year. We doubled our own output this year, and, in fact, I really don't think there need be any serious worry over the future supply of butter."

Milk Plentiful.

Last, but of first importance in the eyes of a dairy manager—came the subject of milk. Butter and eggs might rise beyond recall, but the cows in Edmonton district had remained faithful to their trust, and according to Mr. Prevey, gave every indication of continuing their usual generous supply.

"In fact," he remarked, "if it is true that Calgary is really suffering from a shortage of milk we could supply that city also. The feed has been abundant this year, and besides, this is an ideal dairy country. The farmers are gradually coming to recognize that fact, and are keeping more cows every year. Yes, we have lots of milk and we are going to have more."

Present Prices Satisfactory.

Asked as to the rumor that there was a movement on foot among the dairies of Edmonton to increase the price of milk, Manager Prevey replied, that he had heard of such a movement, but that as far as his firm was concerned they were satisfied with the present price of 10 cents a quart, and he was sure the farmers were also making a good profit under the present arrangement.

MANY IDLE IN TORONTO.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—Alderman McBride, a prominent member of the city council, in advocating the construction of tubes, makes the statement today that there are 100,000 people in Toronto out of work or only working a portion of the time.

SILK SPECIAL ARRIVES.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—A special train of 14 cars arrived here yesterday from Vancouver, carrying $2,000,000 worth of silk brought from the Orient by the Empress of Japan. The "silk special" was despatched across the continent at express speed for New York via Montreal, to meet the Christmas shopping demands.

In 1912 Palermo, Italy, sent 41,156 emigrants to the United States on 178 steamers.

"I AM SATISFIED I COULD NOT LIVE

If It Were Not For "Fruit-a-tives", The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

FENAGHVALE, ONT., JAN. 29th, 1910

"For thirty five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation. No matter what remedy or physicians I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure. About 2 years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding "Fruit-a-tives" and I decided to give them a trial. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for "Fruit-a-tives", I am satisfied I could not live" JAMES PROUDFOOT.

Mr. Proudfoot is one of the prominent farmers of Prescott County and has been Treasurer of Caledonia Township for years. "Fruit-a-tives" is sold at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. by dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa

TRAINMEN CONFER WITH OFFICIALS FOR RAISE

Freight Conductors and Brakemen Will Receive Time Actually Spent in Charge of Trains.

Moose Jaw, Nov. 18—Trainmen from all over the C.P.R. between Kenora and the Pacific will meet Grant Hall and general superintendents, in Winnipeg on December 1, regarding a new schedule. Freight conductors and brakemen on the prairie divisions have been definitely promised an increase whereby they receive payment for the actual time they are in charge of a train. Now, no payment is made for time occupied in waiting for connections and switching at junctions. To freight conductors it means an increase of more than $50 a month and brakemen will get an increase of $29 a month. These raises will go into effect from September 1. What is to be done with schedules on the mountain divisions is not yet known.

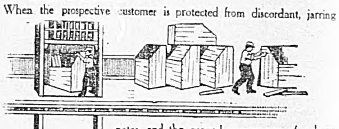
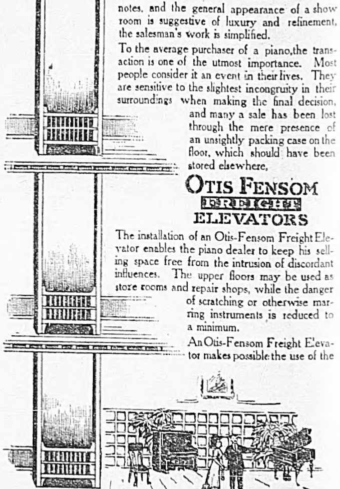
Harmony vs. Discord

HARMONY in the arrangement of a piano salesroom plays an equally important role in the making of a sale as harmony in the instrument to be sold.



When the prospective customer is protected from discordant, jarring notes, and the general appearance of a show room is suggestive of luxury and refinement, the salesman's work is simplified.

To the average purchaser of a piano, the transaction is one of the utmost importance. Most people consider it an event in their lives. They are sensitive to the slightest incongruity in their surroundings when making the final decision, and many a sale has been lost through the mere presence of an unsightly packing case on the floor, which should have been stored elsewhere.



OTIS FENSOM
FREIGHT
ELEVATORS

The installation of an Otis-Fensom Freight Elevator enables the piano dealer to keep his selling space free from the intrusion of discordant influences. The upper floors may be used as store rooms and repair shops, while the danger of scratching or otherwise marring instruments is reduced to a minimum.

An Otis-Fensom Freight Elevator makes possible the use of the regular line shaft power, or, if line shaft power is not available, we can supply a single belt type of elevator with an independent motor. This, in view of the prevailing low rates for electric power, makes a most desirable and profitable investment.

Our free booklet, "Freight Elevators and Their Uses," will furnish the desired information relative to the advantages of an elevator in any line of business. Write for it TODAY. Don't put it off until some other time—simply fill in this coupon and mail NOW, while the thought is fresh in your mind.

MISREPRESENTING THE REPORT OF THE WATER EXPERTS.

For the purpose of making out a case for the Rabbit Hills water scheme, the Bulletin grossly misconstrues the purport of the report of the experts, Ross, Lee and Francis, employed by the city to advise as to the proper source of water supply. "The three Montreal experts," declares the Bulletin, "recommended, for financial reasons, that the present site for the pumping plant be retained. Their second choice was the Rabbit Hills. Their third choice was Beaver Hills.

This statement as to what the experts recommended is not correct. The experts did not state any second choice. In a summary at the close of their report they mentioned the Rabbit Hills and the Beaver Hills, but they did not recommend them, and there is absolutely nothing in their report to show that they favor them in any way.

Later, when the majority of the council decided to override the recommendation of Ross, Lee and Francis and "blow in" three millions, or thereabout, upon a plant designed to pump water to the top of Rabbit Hill so that it might run down again, they employed Engineer Chipman with the very evident idea that the report which he would prepare would corroborate the stand taken by the majority of the council in rejecting the report of the Montreal experts. Chipman, however, was an engineer, not a real estate promoter, and he unequivocally condemned the Rabbit Hills scheme as a waste of money. To clinch the matter, the expert employed by the underwriters' association corroborated in every essential detail the report of Ross, Lee and Francis and the later report of Chipman. Quite evidently all of these experts were of opinion that to get above the source of possible contamination—if such existed—it was only necessary to run the intake pipe up the bed of the river.

For the Bulletin at this late date to attempt to misconstrue the meaning which the experts intended to convey is an evidence of deliberate breach of faith with its readers who have a right to expect their newspaper to tell the truth.

LOOKING ON THE SURFACE FOR THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

As a proposal to reduce the cost of living it is now being seriously proposed in New York that the government be called upon to issue half-cent, two-and-one-half-cent and three-cent coins, the argument being that with the smaller coins certain articles now sold for the full price of the coin would be sold for the fractional coin.

The theory shows how far wrong some alleged economists can go on the much debated cause of the high cost of living.

When these economists come to realize that it is not so much what the goods cost that makes the cost of living high as the question of how much, if anything, the purchasers have left out of their earnings after they buy the necessities, they will have advanced past the stage where they can be fooled by the superstition that conditions can be bettered by splitting the coins.

New York has incorporated into its land values alone a larger debt than that borne by the United States government. This debt is paid out of the industry of New York. In exact ratio with the ability of New Yorkers to pay, the increment piles up against them. To split the coins might have the effect of raising rents; but it could not have the effect of leaving a larger proportion of their earnings to those to whom a split coin might be a consideration. The economists will have to tackle something bigger if they are going to get at the cost of living.

HOPE FOR THE BEST FOR VILHJALMER STEFANSSON.

The lost of Vilhjalmer Stefansson and his party, if it proves to have occurred, will be received by Canadians as a catastrophe coming very close to home. Almost every member of the party is a Canadian and the Stefansson outfit is the first distinctively Canadian polar expedition sent out, although there have been several Canadian adventurers in lower latitudes in recent years. Stefansson himself, although of Icelandic nationality, is a Canadian and his life has been a remarkable record of ascent from humble home surroundings in the little Manitoba settlement of Gimli to a first place in the world of science.

Notwithstanding that the indications of disaster are strong, there is hope, nevertheless, in the last message, which declares that no fear need be felt if the Karluk is not heard from for two years. Every Canadian will hope for the best, most especially those of the west who know Stefansson and know enough about the nature of his work to be able to appreciate it.

INVASION OF MEXICO APPARENTLY UNAVOIDABLE.

The formal opening of the Mexican congress and the declaration of Huerta that he is the president and will continue to fill the office cannot be regarded otherwise than as a direct defi to President Wilson. Quite evidently the next move is up to United States. If President Wilson is going to make good his original requirement that no government founded upon assassination will be permitted to exist, he will probably have to do it through recourse to arms. An invasion of Mexico looks almost unavoidable.

CORRESPONDENCE

DR. WHITELAW ON VACCINATION.

Editor Daily Capital:

Dear Sir,—An osteopathic physician in Friday's issue of the Capital gives the public another long dissertation on the evils of vaccination, and refers to a recent short communication from me as a reply to his first letter. As you will remember, my letter referred only to a short editorial by yourself, and made not the slightest reference to him or his letter, to which he arrogantly assumes it was a reply.

It is not my intention to accede to the evident desire of this self-constituted champion of the anti-vaccinists, that I should enter into a controversy with him on the subject, and thus afford him the opporunity of obtaining a little free advertising by libelling the medical profession to which he professes to belong.

I leave it with the public to decide whether quotations from alleged experts, of whom those entitled to any respect are either dead or had no knowledge whatever of modern methods of vaccination at the time they wrote, and the irresponsible statements of an osteopathic physician, are to be accepted as conclusive, rather than those of the greatest living authorities in medicine of the present day including Sir Wm. Osler, Dr. Charles Hodgetts of the Canadian conservation commission, Dr. Rosemau, professor of preventitive medicine and hygiene, Harvard, and Dr. Ker of Edinburgh University, all of whom have written standard works on the subject which will be freely placed by me at the disposal of any citizen desiring reliable information on the subject of vaccination.

As an indication of the general unreliability and recklessness of the statements made by the osteopathic physician, it is sufficient to state that Sir William Osler in his "System of Medicine," gives the number of deaths in the German army from smallpox during the Franco-German war, as 353 per million of men engaged. Osteopathic physician puts the figure at 124,000, as you will obesrve in his recent letter, or probably more than the total of killed in battle, or dying from wounds or disease during the whole war.

Yours truly,
T. H. WHITELAW,
Medical Officer of Health.

THE CITY CHARTER.

Editor, Edmonton Capital:

Sir,—Leaving out of consideration for the moment the proposal to obtain an entirely new city charter, I offer the suggestion that the following amendments should be made to the present charter:

(1) The mayor should not be a member of the commission board in any capacity whatever.

(2) The mayor should be elected by the aldermen from one of their number.

(3) The safeguards in respect of the appointment and removal of commissioners recently taken away should be restored.

(4) Change of policy in regard to assessment for local improvements, such as was made this year, should be guarded against.

(5) Construction of local improvements other than water and sewer should not be specially assessed.

(6) All city officials other than auditor and clerk to council should be appointed by and be subject to commissioners.

(7) In the event of a deadlock between council and commissioners on any matter other than purely legislative and not solely subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioners, both bodies to sit together and the majority to decide.

(8) No amendments to the charter to be made unless previously approved by a vote of the people.

I regard numbers 1, 2, 3 and 8 of paramount importance.—Yours faithfully,
C. L. RICHARDSON.

MME. ESME MAKES FIRST CANADIAN VISIT

Miss Olga Esme, the pretty little leading lady who comes to the Empire theatre Nov. 20, 21 and 22, with Mr. Lawrence Brough's all-English company, in "The Lady of Ostend," by visiting Canada is gratifying her dearest wish. Miss Esme is a considerable traveller, but thus far Canada has eluded her. In addition to being a well-known leading lady in London, where she has been associated with Seymour Hicks, Sir John Hare, Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, and other equally celebrated London managers, Miss Esme has visited Russia, South Africa, France and Germany and is thoroughly conversant with the language of each of these countries. Whilst still a child, Olga, who is a ward of Sir James Sivewright, ex-Premier of Cape Colony, was an especial favorite of the late Rt. Hon. Cecil Rhodes. Mr. Brough commenced his all-Canadian tour in Montreal at His Majesty's theatre, Labor Day, and will be visiting this city shortly en route for the Canadian West.

To the Ratepayers and Tenants of the City of Edmonton

Ladies and Gentlemen,—At the request of a number of the recognized best business men of this city to offer myself as a candidate for aldermanic honors at the forthcoming civic election, I have consented to do so.

I have been a resident of Edmonton since 1902, and believe that I should be able to do good work as a member of the city council. If you, the electors, choose to elect me, I will most assuredly appreciate your confidence and support. Should I be elected, I have only one promise to make, and that is, that I will endeavor to serve the city, and the city only, to the best of my ability.

That a plebiscite should be taken before the next session of the legislature to obtain the views of the electors on the question of municipal government by elective commission, meets with my approval.

Yours respectfully,
J. R. McINTOSH.

McNAMARA BIG MEETING TONIGHT NORWOOD BOULEVARD SCHOOL

In live fighting speech the Candidate for Mayor will show the causes for the shortcomings in city affairs and will present the remedy for same. Aldermanic Candidates will present their platforms and civic business will be thoroughly discussed by many speakers. Ladies especially invited.

Norwood, that political battlefield, where all questions of municipal importance have been threshed out for years, and where the citizens keep posted to the minute on civic affairs, will be the centre of attraction this evening, when a big public meeting will be held to discuss Edmonton's numerous municipal ills, the causes, and a remedy for the same. W. J. McNamara, the candidate for Mayor, will deliver a fighting speech in plain language.

The present municipal campaign is the most important in the history of the city. This election will shape the policy of the future Edmonton in no small degree, Edmonton, the premier municipal ownership city of the continent. It behoves every good citizen to attend political meetings more than ever before and weigh well the principles upon which this campaign is being waged.

Besides W. J. McNamara, the Candidate for Mayor, aldermanic candidates will present their respective platforms and give their reasons for seeking the suffrage of the people.

The Norwood meeting will be a good one, as Norwood meetings usually are. It will be held in the Norwood school house, at Norwood Boulevard and Kirkness. Ladies are especially invited. W. J. McNamara is a champion of equal suffrage for women.

Capital Want Ads Are Business Magnets

BRITISH PEOPLE ARE RETRENCHING IN ALL LUXURIES

Trappers Will Feel the Effects Keenly—Furs Drop 30 Per Cent.

The trapper of the north country will not be able to enter on his winter's work this year with the same enthusiasm or hope of profit as in the past. Simple as his life is and precious as is the commodity he deals in, even the trapper of skins seems to be on the eve of hearing that unpleasant chestnut about the high cost of living.

Mr. Richard Secord in his comfortable office at 2 Jasper west, handed a representative of the Capital a copy of the last report of the great London fur sale, held every year in the month of October. This is the centre for the world's fur trade and prices quoted there are a sure index of the times.

"The result of the October fur sales, just concluded, has been the most unsatisfactory experienced in many years." These are the first words of the report. A little further on come the words—"After so long a period of advancing prices, some reduction in values was only to be expected, but that the drop was so sudden is to be greatly regretted."

This report was handed to the newspaper man as a mutely eloquent reply to the reporter's query as to what was Mr. Secord's private opinion of the hard times cry, which is being dinned in everybody's ears these days.

"If you ask me," said Mr. Secord, "it's my opinion they've only begun. Things are awful bad over there in Europe. They don't look a bit right," —and it was at this juncture the financier handed the reporter the Lampson report in support of his pessimistic statement. The poor report, of course, implies the economic truth that retrenchment of luxuries is the first indication of a financial stringency, and furs are a luxury of luxuries in Europe.

Canada, especially Western Canada, borrows by far the greater share of its money from the capitalistic centres of England and the continent, hence, according to Mr. Secord, the practical failure of the fur market this fall certainly does not indicate an early loosening of the big money-bags over the water. The failure of the fur market cannot stand alone, as it involves a sympathetic weakness in many other branches of business.

The decline in the prices of Canadian furs this October averaged between 20 and 30 per cent., with the one startling exception of the "fox cross," which sustained an advance of no less than 150 per cent.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Dorothy Dix, Famous Woman Journalist, Is 43 Today

Very few people have ever heard of Mrs. Elizabeth Meriwether Gilmer, but every reader of newpapers and magazines between the gelid Hudson's Bay and tropic Mexico knows and loves Dorothy Dix, the creator of that most delightful of cullud mammies, "Mirandy." Dorothy Dix is really Mrs. Gilmer, when at home, which is seldom. In her youth, before her nostrils had caught the scent of printer's ink and the incense of fame, she had personal acquaintance with many a "Sis Mirandy" and "Sis Marthy," for she was born in the black belt, Montgomery county, Tenn., Nov. 18, 1870, just forty three years ago today—and she doesn't care who knows it. She can afford to be indifferent to such vital statistics, for anybody, upon seeing her handsome and unlined face, would remark, "Impossible! She can't be over 35, at the very most." There is a suspicion along Park Row that Dorothy Dix is guilty of the unprecedented act of trying to make folk believe she is older than she really is.

Elizabeth Meriwether was born and reared on a race-horse ranch, and in her youth developed two passions—horses and newspapers. She declares that she "literally cut her teeth on the Louisville Courier-Journal" and when still a wee mite of a girl she began devouring all the newspapers she could get. She was educated in a rural "seminary for young ladies at 16, and she was just three days beyond her 18 birthday when she married George O. Gilmer, at Clarksville Tenn.

Financial necessity and love for the work induced her to take up journalism. Her neswpaper premiere was made as a member of the staff of the New Orleans Picayune. There her first assignments were to report funerals. Whenever any prominent citizen was to be filed away in the neat little pigeon-holes that serve as graves in the Crescent City, the young woman was assigned to "write up" the obsequies. She couldn't become accustomed to death, and as a consequence she always wept copiously. This had the disadvantage of reducing her copy paper to a pulp, but the decided advantage of securing a place for the reporter up in front among the mourners, as it was thought she must be a relative of the late lamented.

When she wasn't "doing" funerals the youthful reporter was "doubling" as a dramatic critic. As any manager or "angel" of a stranded road company or producer of an unpopular play will tell you, there isn't as much difference between a funeral and the drama as may be imagined. Eventually she was made editor of the woman's department of the Picayune, and it was while employed in that capacity that she assumed the pen name of Dorothy Dix.

In 1900 she invaded New York and soon became one of the stars of the sob sister squad. She turned New York into a vale of tears, and harrowed the feelings of gentle readers until they wept aloud in the grief. In those days, when riding in a public conveyance, one often heard gurgles of grief coming from behind opened newspapers, and knew that the stricken one was reading Dorothy Dix. Eventually the reading public tired of going about with red eyes, and Dorothy Dix, reading the signs of the times, discovered that she had a vein of humor, whose opinions are expressed in inimitable darky dialect. As all normal persons prefer to emit chuckles of joy rather than gurgles of grief, the last stage of Dorothy Dix's journalistic development is a decided improvement over the first.

Atlanta, Ga., has adopted the initiative, referendum and recall.

SPORTOGRAPHY

Billy Sunday, 50 Tomorrow, Once Star of the Diamond

Just to lead up to the subject gradual, after the most approved style of baseball scribes, one observes that Albertus Perfecto Colorado Maduro Demaree, pill pusher for the Giants and pen pusher for Mr. Hearst, and the only pitcher-cartoonist in captivity is a married man. You might not think it, from his apparent youth and care-free attitude toward life and things in general, but it is true. Wherefore—still studiously refraining from blurting out what one is writing about, as do common or garden reporters—wherefore it follows that Mr. Demaree has a wife. More than that, he has a paw-in-law, said person answering to the cognomen of C. A. Windle. This Mr. Windle we are speaking of is the successor of one Brann, violently deceased, in the editorial chair of a publication called the Iconoclast. And—now, gentle reader, you are growing warm—the chief mission of the publication aforesaid is to lambast Billy Sunday, the ex-baseball player who is now famed the world over as an evangelist. In swatting sin on the snoot, as Mr. Sunday himself might elegantly express it, or in describing the regions which he alleges are now inhabited by Darwin, Ingersoll, Paine, Huxley, Voltaire, and all others who didn't believe as Billy does, Mister Sunday makes use of language little short of terrid. Yet his phrases are as gelid as ice cream soda compared with the verbal broadsides hurled at Mr. Sunday by Mr. Windle.

As Mr. Demaree and Mr. Windle have now served their purpose, one may adopt the method discovered by Mark Twain for getting rid of characters no longer useful, and state that they went out into the back yard and fell in the well and were drowned. This permits us to give our undivided attention to Billy Sunday, who, on the morrow will celebrate the semi-centenary of his birth. Billy was born in Iowa, and commenced his baseball career in Marshalltown. "Cap" Anson was the first white chee-ild born in the city, and while he was on a visit to his native heath he discovered Sunday. For five years Billy played centerfield for the White Stockings, and later he was three years with the Pirates and a year with the Phillies. He left the Diamond to become a Y. M. C. A. worker.

Mrs. J. Wallace, Athabasca avenue, received for the first time since her arrival in Edmonton yesterday afternoon. The pretty bungalow was gaily decorated with flowers. Mrs. Saunders assisted in the drawing-room, and Miss Marjorie Saunders assisted in the tea-room. Mrs. Wallace wore a picturesque gown of black satin with white lace tunic veiling, a rose-colored girdle and sash. There were also touches of rose color on the bodice, which was edged with diamonte trimming. Mrs. Garden wore a handsome toilette of grey satin with cream lace on the corsage. Little Miss Jean Wallace wearing a brown velvet frock, opened the door for her mother's many callers.

SAVING FATHER'S WEALTH WHILE FACING DEATH

Picture of Young Girl at Empress That Holds Audience Spellbound.

The story of a young girl, who with her lover, saved her father's wealth and all the time facing death, was dramatically told at the Empress theatre last night when the management offered that thrilling photo play entitled "In Touch With Death." It was indeed a thriller and every detail caused the large audience to remain spell bound.

The story is that of Dan Johnson who seeks to rob a farmer of a large sum of money. By forging the name of the sheriff to a letter he secures the position as manager of the ranch and immediately commences operations towards getting the coin. A coincidence brings the girl and her sweet-heart to the realisation that her father has been decoyed into the city. They get hold of the money and after a fight with the miscreants flee. The many events that happen afterwards are thrilling and exciting and tends to make up one of the best pictures ever shown at the Empress this year. The pictures covers an immense amount of ground; miles and miles of prairie can be seen, the railroad is another important part and the farm house.

There are other good features at the Empress for today. Othello and her maid make up about the funniest comedy that this theatre could wish for.

After considerable endeavor the Empress management has managed to secure the feature film "King Rene's Daughter." This picture will be shown soon and it is of the kind that is only sent out by the producers for special occasions.

FOOTBALL PHOTO PLAY AT BIJOU

An unusually interesting photo-play dealing with football has been produced by the Vitagraph company. It is a two-part Special Feature, called "The Line-Up," which was exhibited yesterday and will be repeated today at the Bijou theatre.

The mainstay of a college football team, a powerful quarterback, is tempted to throw away his college honor by entering into a professional [illegible], which would disqualify him as an amateur player. A scheme is hatched against him by the captain of a rival team but his intention is foiled by the player's quick wit and the help of a true friend. In order to save the brother of the girl he loves from disgrace the quarterback consents to enter the race but has the money offered him paid by check to the brother, who is thus enabled to cover the shortage in his accounts.

When the great game is played off between the rival colleges, the favorite player is accused of being a professional and is debarred from going on to the field. His friend, by his prompt action in getting hold of the check and showing that the player had received no money whatever, is able to demonstrate what actually had occurred. As a result, just before the close of the game, the player is allowed to take his place with his team. By a series of unusually brilliant plays he is able to save the game for his college, the team leaving the field winner by a narrow margin.

"The Line-up" is a truly convincing drama and is one that makes a powerful appeal to lovers of clean sport.

One Cause of Bad Complexion—the Cure

(From Family Physician.)

"Look at a section of skin under the microscope and you will readily understand why cosmetics generally injure the complexion," says Dr. [illegible] Robert MacKenzie. "The skin, smooth as it looks to the naked eye, under the glass exhibits a network of tiny holes, mouths of myriads of little glands. To keep the skin healthy these holes must be unobstructed, that the perspiration and natural oil can have free outlet. Should the glands be blocked up with [illegible] gritty particles, a common result of using powders and creams, Nature retaliates by causing sallowness, roughness, blotches or pimples.

"As a substitute for all cosmetics I recommend ordinary mercolized wax. It not only does what the cosmetics [illegible] are supposed to accomplish, but its peculiar absorbent action [illegible] the pores from the daily accumulation of impurities, also absorbing the devitalized particles of surface skin. This produces a natural, healthy, youthful complexion. [illegible] of this wax, to be had at any drug store, usually suffices to rejuvenate the [illegible] complexion. It is put on nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings."

ORPH. VAUDEVILLE PRESENTS STRONG BILL THIS WEEK

Billy B. Van Has Pot-Pouri of Fun—Pound Sisters and Sophye Barnard Are Other Good Things at Empire.

Edmonton theatre goers attending the Orpheum vaudeville, which opened at the Empire yesterday for the usual first three days of the week, will have the pleasure of witnessing the always popular Billy B. Van with his company in a "Goog-stew" of amusing dialogue and funny actions. There is really very little to the piece, but Billy B. himself, but that in itself is enough. The supporting people are very good. The act has a sort of musical comedy wind up, which is perhaps the best part of the bill. The imitation of a Salvation Army street band with Mr. Van in the part of the convert is particularly funny. Worthy of mention in passing is Miss Nellie Beaumont. Miss Beaumont is the best looking Army lass it has ever been the Drama Bug's pleasure to witness on the stage, and should the young lady decide to stay permanently in Edmonton there is no doubt that she would have 'some' converts to her credit.

Two Clever Girls

Lorna and Toots Pounds, are worthy of almost an equal place on the bill this week with the headliners. These two charming Australian girls, direct from the Palace theatre, London, are both pretty and clever and present an assortment of entertainment from an imitation of Jane Cowl in her famous success "Within the Law," to a dance by Gaby Deslys. Of course any act coming billed from the Palace should be and is of the highest order and these young ladies live up most certainly to their booking. Miss Lorna Pound is perhaps the cleverest of the two and her imitation of a Southern judge with his small town court got over strong last night.

Old Songs Best

Miss Sophye Barnard, billed as the girl with the "thrush-like voice," lives up to her booking and was warmly received. Unfortunately, like too many playing in vaudeville, Miss Barnard devotes too much of her, all too short, time, on the stage to singing popular present-day rot. Surely her own viewing of the reception given her when she sang Swanee River is enough to convince that after all it is the old songs, or those with feeling and a little throb to them that after all makes the greatest hit with the public in general.

However Miss Barnard is a strong part of a very good bill whether she sings "Didn't Want to Do It," or "The Lost Chord."

Lou Anger, billed as "The German Soldier" talks continuously for about fifteen minutes and most every line of his talk has a laugh in it.

The two Hanlons, Frank and Miles, have an acrobatic turn that is particularly meritorious for this kind of an act. The closing stunt, where braced upon a table upon his back, one catches the other from a running jump into the air is a difficult turn and got a good hand.

The Six Samarins, whirlwind dancers, do that to perfection and close what is a well balanced and pleasing bill.

NEW BOOK.

A book of northern sketches by Mrs. Arthur Murphy (Janey Canuck) will be published in the spring. The title, "Seeds of Pine," is taken from a sentence of Fiona MacLeod's, "a handful of pine seed will cover the mountains with the green majesty of the forest, and I too will set my face to the wind and throw my handful of seeds on high."

A DREAM POTION.

Almost every woman knows how unpleasant it is to pass a sleepless night, or even to remember it in the morning a series of dreams or nightmares, which apparently had no rhyme or reason for coming. A good potion to insure sweet dreams has been given by a celebrated physician as follows: Just before retiring each night drink a glassful of hot water, flavored with peppermint, in which a half teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda has been dissolved. Furthermore, avoid any food or drink that has been found indigestible.

GOLD AND BEADS IN TRIMMING.

Gold lace, gold embroideries, gold leaf trimmings and laces of black or white, [illegible] in gold, will be used extensively. Bead trimming, both by the yard and in embroidered designs upon chiffon, is displayed.

Rubberized cloth, with a sprinkling of aluminum dust, which reflects the light without heating, is being experimented with for balloons and automobile tops.

Edmonton, Alta.—A wonderful secret discovered of restoring baldness and poor complexion. Quite inexpensive and absolutely harmless. [illegible] S. E. Wilson, [illegible]. Hair sure to return; and all defects as scars, roughness, freckles, pimples, blotches and blackheads will disappear.

PANTAGES HAS SOME VERY GOOD FEATURES ON BILL

Trapeze Artists, Alpha Sextette and Berlin Dancers are the Chief Attractions.

There are three good features in the vaudeville bill at the Pantages theatre this week, although Rena Arnold, with her "pug nose," isn't so bad, but what one can enjoy some of her turn. One wonders, however, why La France and McNabb came all this distance from Chicago to show us their conception of funny fellows. The trapeze work of the Aerial La Fayettes is a remarkably good turn and embraces some daring as well as novel features. The Alpha Sextette, who sang everything from grand opera to ragtime, were given a meed of applause that was well earned. Their singing is well expressed in the word 'good.' All adjectives in the language would fail to convey any more complete and comprehensive meaning. They are vocalists of a high order and it is an exquisite delight to listen to them.

The eight Berlin madcaps captivated the audience with their dancing. They are artists in the game and perform many original feats that are thoroughly enjoyable.

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE SURPRISED TO LEARN HE'S ILL

Friends Surprised to Meet Him on Streets After Reading Reports.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—To a score of friends this morning who were astonished to meet the railroad magnate on the street, Sir William Van Horne gave absolute denial to the canard that he had been rushed here from Toronto in a precarious condition of health.

Sir William addressed a meeting of the Toronto Canadian club yesterday and a report which appeared in the morning papers was to the effect that his effort had been followed by an attack of weakness that rendered necessary expert medical treatment for which he had to be rushed to Montreal in his special car. This special car arrived at Windsor station at 8.30 this morning.

"I cannot explain the report," replied the builder of railways. "Someone saw me having a nap after I had given my address yesterday afternoon. That is the only explanation I can think of. I did not know what was the trouble this morning when my son Richard met me at the station with a face as long as a fiddle. And look at the letters that have come in. I'll have to get to work and answer them now."

Previous to receiving the reporter at half-past ten, Sir William had been having a long talk with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

"Third Degree" Splendidly Portrayed at the Lyceum

Irene Lorton, Particularly Clever Actress, Makes Good in Part —Richard Manning Strong in Part of New York Police Captain.

Of all the dramatists of late date who have risen to prominence, Charles Klein is perhaps the most consistent writer of muckraking plays. But withal plays that in their producing point out evil, and rottenness in existing conditions.

"The Third Degree," which opened at the Lyceum last night is perhaps one of the most important in the above respects striking as it does at a condition of police affairs existing not only in New York but every city and town upon the Amercan continent that boasts a police force of over a score.

While plays or the great voice of the press have so far done little to change what is done in the name of the law the "Third Degree" is a great play and as produced by the Toronto Stock company on opening night is one of the most successful pieces put on by them in some time.

The play besides being one that is an excellent vehicle for stock also gives the various principals of the company a chance to show what they can do and in every respect they made good last night.

With her naiveness her naturalness, and the magnetism of a wonderful speaking voice, Miss Irene Lorton, as Annie, the wife of Jeffries, Jr., swayed her audience to the point of tears and then again to ripples of quiet laughter with her perfectly simulated ingenuousness. It is not in some time that the "Drama Bug" has watched an actress with more pleasure than last night when viewing Miss Lorton's portrayal of the part of Annie. The young lady is a new comer to the popular stock house but she is a very welcome one and her addition to the company will be appreciated by patrons of the house. Speaking of patrons, standing room only was out at the Lyceum last night which speaks well for the plays being produced here.

"WHITE SLAVE" IS A GREAT FILM

"The White Slave," shown last night at the Namayo avenue movie house, proved to be a great success. The story deals with the days before the great war between the North and South.

An interesting two-reel Selig drama entitled "Lieutenant Jones," is a story of a man that allowed himself to get into trouble to save the father of his sweetheart.

The two comedies on the program are well above the standard, being played by the famous Lubin comedians. The first is entitled "Building a Trust" and shows the troubles of the persons who are in the laundry business, an Irish woman, a colored lady and a Chinaman. An Irish policeman assists in the "Building of the Laundry Trust."

"Love Loses Out" is the title of the other comedy which is perhaps the funnier of the two.

Mr. George S. Beach will again sing "The Garden of Roses" by special request.

GOOD ATTRACTION AT THE MONARCH

"Protea" is Big Feature for Thursday, Friday and Saturday This Week.

The big feature attraction at the Monarch theatre will be "Protea," the story of a woman diplomatic agent. This latest of all European sensations is in five parts and will open an engagement at the Monarch for three days starting Thursday, November 20. It is brimful of thrills and excitement.

The story opens in the offices of the commissioner of police at Gottenberg in Mesania. The commissioner receives instructions from his government that a treaty in opposition to their interests is about to be concluded between the two neighboring states of Keltia and Slavonia, and the commissioner is further instructed to obtain a copy of this document, at any cost.

POLICE COURT

Police Court Etiquette.

Police court etiquette is very strict and it must be observed by all and sundry. This was very forcibly impressed on J. Weeks this morning when he rudely told the magistrate that he had just as much right to speak as he had and that no one could stop him if he wanted to speak. The magistrate very kindly gave Weeks ten days with hard labor in order that he might have a chance to learn some of the police court usages, so that he won't feel so out of place when he comes up later to answer the charge of impersonating a police officer.

It all happened like this, Jack was going along the street one day when he met an Edmonton Beauty, being smitten right then and there Jack cast round for some means of introduction. Seeing a cop about two blocks away the brilliant idea struck him why not impersonate one of those "Fly Cops." With Jack to think was to act. He therefore introduced himself as a government detective from Montreal and said that Chief Carpenter was using every possible persuasion to secure his brilliant service for the Edmonton force. Later he told his lady friend that the chief had hired him at $150 per month, but he expected to make at least another $150 per month on the side; he also stated that his number would be 71. While he was making numbers he should have chosen a more appropriate number—23 for instance—as it certainly was a case of skidoo when he offered to talk back to the magistrate.

Rescuing a Princess.

J. E. Roone, was not aware that Jasper avenue was only intended for traffic, he thought that possibly no one would object to it being turned into a race-track. He tried it with a horse and delivery rig and in his whiskey-befuddled brain he imagined that he was a hero driving to the rescue of an imprisoned princess. This illusion was soon dispelled when the policeman arrested him and charged him with being drunk and driving at a reckless rate. Ten dollars helped to clear his brain of illusions.

Glorious Time on Kinistino.

John Hayduck, John Danluck, John Bachuck, Andrew Badchuch, Nick Boychuck and Pete Pivuck were out last night on Kinistino avenue for a celebration and after having a drink or two they grew slightly hilarious and gay.

Just about this time Constable Berry appeared on the scene and tried to restore law and order. In this he succeeded, but not without a sharp tussle. He had no sooner arrested the first one than No. 2 started to butt in with the result that he also got in the toils. This caused No. 3 to get in the game and in a short time the whole six were mixed up in the fray with the policeman. To make a long story short, Constable Berry succeeded in bringing the bunch before the magistrate, where each had to answer to two charges, one of drunkenness and a second charge of obstructing a police officer in the discharge of his duty. The sum total of the fines amounted to something like $70.

Remanded Till Thursday.

A. J. Shearer, who is charged with theft, was remanded until next Thursday afternoon.

CIGAR BUSINESS SUFFERING NOW FROM HARD TIMES

Four Stores Close Their Doors in Edmonton Within a Few Days.

Edmonton has today four cigar stores less than it had a week ago. It sounds alarming and is at least surprising. Even hard times seems hardly a sufficient reason to plead for such an unusual cessation of business in one line.

Some days ago the Imperial Cigar store on First street just north of Jasper, closed its doors and went into the hands of the receiver. Yesterday the Rex Cigar and News Store company gave up the ghost and was quickly followed by the Poney cigar store on Jasper avenue between Third and Fourth streets. But the climax—at least the cigar business hopes it is the climax—was reached this morning when early passers-by noticed a formidable looking lock which had been freshly screwed on to the front door of Deacons old place at 108 Jasper avenue east, lately doing business under the name of the Capital Cigar Stores Limited. This store had come to be looked on as one of the fixtures of Jasper avenue, having in the rear a large pool parlor in addition to the regular cigar store in the front. Fixture or no fixture Deacon's is no more. This morning it was seized for arrears of rent and put under lock and key.

Such a coincidence needs a reason, hence the ubiquitous reporter was put on the trail. After interviewing several managers of the larger stores which have survived the deluge he was convinced that at least the present financial stringency has not been the sole reason for the four failures. In almost every case it was learned that the real cause was due to too many having a finger in the pie. About two or three years ago when things were still booming and the sky seemed the limit many were anxious to get in on the ground floor of the cigar business and share in the wonderful profits then being made. Real estate was high in those days when all were rich, and locations for stores could not be secured. At last the bottom of the real estate market began to give way and soon dropped out. In rushed the men who were anxious to start a small business in one line or another and among them the hard-hit cigar man. Rents seemed reasonable enough then and confidence in Edmonton's growth seemed to justify the hope that there would be business enough for all.

But it has ben a lean year and the business did not grow as was anticipated. Rehts remained as high as ever and too many were looking for plums from a pie that was not so large as people thought. Consequently the present troubles are but the logical conclusion of false step—at least that is the opinion of the man who was not snowed under.

ACTION FOR DAMAGES IN THE SUPREME COURT

Edmonton Shovellers Co. Sue Winnipeg Firm for Loss Caused by Delay.

Evidence is being heard by Mr. Justice Beck in the supreme court today in the action for $10,000 damages brought by the Edmonton Shovellers company against J. Gunn & Sons, Winnipeg. The case centres round the sale of a gravel outfit bought by the Shovellers company from the defendants a few months ago.

The plaintiffs allege that the purchase was made on the understanding that they were to receive immediate delivery of the gravel outfit, and that defendants failed to carry out this part of the contract, the delay in the delivery of the machinery causing purchasers serious loss.

Mr. B. Pratt is acting for plaintiff and Mr. O. M. Biggar for the defendants.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take two cups of granulated sugar, add one cup of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly. Any housewife can easily prepare it in five minutes.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this recipe, if the genuine Pinex is used. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you, if you ask him. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

BUILDING PERMITS DURING YEAR 1913 WERE $10,243,567

A Record Not to Be Ashamed of in View of Stringency.

According to a statement submitted to the commissioners by Building Inspector McIvor, during the year commencing November 1st 1912, and ending October 31st, 1913, the department issued building permits totalling $10,243,567. Comparing this amount with the previous year when the permits reached the high figure of $13,217,212, it is found that 1913 has fallen behind its predecessor to the extent of $2,973,645. Notwithstanding the money stringency, which no doubt played a large part in curtailing building operations in Edmonton during the building season now closing, yet the record of over $10,000,000 worth of buildings is not one to be ashamed of, and shows in no uncertain way that Edmonton is forging ahead at a wonderful pace notwithstanding all obstacles that have been met with during the year.

The report of the building inspector for the month of October as compared with the previous month is as follows:

	1913. October.	1913. September
Value of building permits issued	$546,925	$746,150
No. of building permits issued	214	318
No. of plumbing permits issued	220	174
No. of sewer permits issued	195	162
Moving permits issued	17	13
Street permits issued	1	6
Sign permits issued	1	0

During the month of October the department inspected 772 buildings, 405 plumbing jobs and 212 sewer connections. The revenue for the month totalled $711.50 and the expenditure $1,470.28.

GOOD ATTRACTION AT THE ORPHEUM

Polmatier Sisters' Orchestra Are Special Feature at Jasper East House

Starting tonight and continuing for three nights the Polmatier Sisters' orchestra will give concerts at the Orpheum theatre, Jasper East. This is an excellent attraction to be put on by a photo-play theatre and should meet with the approval of the public. From all indications the house will be crowded at each performance. The ticket office was kept busy yesterday and today with patrons who tried to secure reserved seats. It was impossible to accommodate any of them as this theatre does not reserve any seats at any time. It is a case of first come, first served, and those who come early will secure the best seats. Many theatres raise their prices on special attractions, but this cannot be said of the Orpheum, as they always adhere to the one price. Three interesting pictures will be included in the program. A two reel "Drama in the Air," "Gamble with Death," and the "Absent-minded Mr. Boob." Concerts will be given by the orchestra at 8 and 9:30 oclock each evening.

GUNBOAT SMITH OUTPOINTS SAM LANGFORD

LANGFORD GIVES GUNNER HARD TWELVE ROUNDS OF BATTLE

Referee's Decision Surprise on Account Negro's Showing

Sam Puts Up Game Scrap, and After Seventh was Aggressor, Cutting Up and Trimming Opponent Though Unmarked Himsef.

Boston, Nov. 18—Gunboat Smith, of California, was given the decision over Sam Langford, of Nova Scotia, at the end of a 12-round bout here last night.

Smith led clearly during the early rounds of the bout, scoring repeatedly on left jabs to Langford's head and body, while the negro made no serious attempt at defense. But as the bout went on Smith, the California heavyweight, wearied and Langford assumed the aggressive, sending his left and right to Smith's body at short range, while the latter swung unsuccessfully at Langford's head. So many and so strong were Langford's blows in the rounds that many of the spectators expressed surprise at the decision of the referee. Smith at the start jabbed away with his left, supplying nearly all the action. Langford did not seem to be bothered by the long range blows, turning many away without great effort and standing up under others without defence. Occasionally he interjected a right or left on Smith's body, but not until the seventh round did he make any apparent attempt to maintain the battle. When Langford started a short range fight which, in the eighth round resulted in opening Smith's cheek under the left eye.

Smith, by reputation, a strong right-handed fighter, relied on his left jabs throughout. Several attempts to land rights were not successful and the Californian's best efforts in this respect were only three swings on Langford in the last rounds.

Smith's cheek bled freely as the fight neared the end, and the blood getting into his eyes, blinded him. Smith seemed fatigued and hung onto his opponent while Langford, although apparently carrying more weight than at any time in his career, appeared stronger. Langford escaped unmarked.

Ninety-two Records Made This Year Reports A.A.U.

Kanaka Swimmer Credited With Seven, Finnish Runner Nine —New Officers are Elected for A.A.U.

New York, Nov. 18.—Alfred J. Hill, Jr., of Boston, was elected president of the Amateur Athletic union. Other officers elected were: First vice-president, John Elliott, San Francisco; second vice-president, Theo R. Bland, of St. Louis; third vice-president, Geo. J. Turner, of Baltimore; fourth vice-president, Frederick W. Bauer, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Sullivan of this city was reelected secretary and treasurer. The election took place at the annual meeting of the amateur athletic union of the United States and in addition to the choosing of officers, many matters of importance were decided. In all 92 new records, made during the past year, were approved; 78 of these were in track and field events and the remaining 14 were for swimming.

Of the swimming records Duke P. Kahansmoku, of Honolulu, was credited with seven. Kohlemainen the Finish olympic distance runner was given nine new records, most of which were made by him as member of Irish A. C. The Finlander's marks comprise 12 indoor and 31 outdoor track records, at distances from 2 1-4 miles to 10 miles. H. P. Drew, the sprinter from Springfield Mas. high school, accounted for new indoor time marks at 65, 70 and 75 yards of 7, 7 1-5 and 7 3-5 seconds respectively. John Paul Jones of Cornell, with his world's outdoor record of 4:14 2-5 and Abell Kiviat of the Irish American A. C. with 4:18 1-5 for a mile indoors were the other holders of records.

It was the general opinion of the delegates that after the record committee should accept those records made at the standard distances and in the events according to the list which now obtains in the United States those sanctioned by the Olympic council as advocated by the athletic federation and those to be passed upon at the next years Paris convention of the Olympic committee. The organization will be represented by a committee to be appointed later at the sessions of the athletic federation to be held at London or Brussels and Paris next year.

There are 1,520 co-operative societies in Britain.

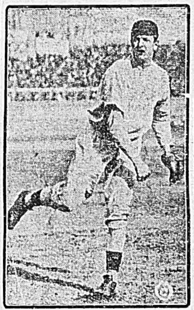
MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON
THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER



We of the Giants-White Sox party have been getting a lot of information on trades along our route to the coast and since we have sighted the Pacific. At on time or another within the last month nearly every prominent major league player, including Speaker, Cobb, and Konetchy as the head liners, has been swapped by the newspapers. It is my opinion that there will be a good many trades made this winter because club owners and managers are rapidly begining to recognize the fact that when a ball player is discontented he cannot do his best for a team no matter how hard he may try. But I do not think that either Cobb or Speaker will change the name on his uniform next summer.

There have been numerous instances of trades benefitting the work of certain players, especially those of the temperamental sort. Hal Chase was the best example of this last season. He had got into a rut in New York after the many years he had spent there, and do what he could, he could not pull out of it. It is my opinion that the fans did not give Chase a very good deal while he was with the Yankees. I never knew him well until this trip. He is an earnest, hard working ball player who takes care of himself.

The switches in the Yankee management did as much to get Chase out of New York as anything else. It is a tough thing for a man to be the leader of a team and then drop back to the ranks again. This is largely due to the authority he enjoyed while he was the manager, which changes his point of view in spite of himself. Then, you can't tell a baseball fan that a man is not sore or lying down when he is working again for some other leader, because, every time he makes an error, the fan is sure of it. Ball players tell me that it is the toughest position in the world to have the home fans "riding" you. You expect it when you are away from home and do not mind it, but it cuts on your own lot.

As the baseball world knows, Chase moved to Chicago and played brilliant ball after his leg was right. But the New York rooters would not bear in mind last summer that Chase was trying to play the bag with a leg out of condition most of the time. He had been rather eager to leave the Yankees for some time, but no manager took hold of the team with the nerve to trade Chase until Chance was placed in power. Frank has the nerve to do anything that he thinks should be done and, although Borton was a flivver, I think Chance benefited the team by the deal.

"I had long wanted to leave New York," Chase told a friend of mine after the swap was completed last summer. "You bet I am going to show them now that I still have some baseball left in me." And he did

Another thing which handicaps a ball player is to rise from the ranks to the leadership of the same club. Such a man is bound to have had some differences with some, if not all, of the players during the term of service with the club, and, as a result, these men do not work as well for him as they would for a rank outsider. I have in mind John Evers, who is one of the shrewdest men ever to break into baseball, but who had his troubles as a manager last summer because of the fact that he had been with the Cubs so long and because of his fiery temperament. Some of the players, who used to eat out of Chance's hand, were always at odds with Evers.

Zimmerman and Evers could not get along at all, and the big third baseman was in bad all season. The Cubs did not get as much out of him as they should, for he is really a star of the first water. It takes positive authority to keep "Zim" in line, and he had gotten to know Evers too well before the latter's rise to power. John and "Heinie" had had their clashes as players, and "Heinie" made it hard for Evers when the latter rose to supreme power.

Little things were responsible for much of the trouble. For instance, Evers made a rule that, when the team was on the road, the players must stop at the hotels and not go to their own homes, if they happened to live in the town where the club was playing, or they must not stay at the home of friends. Zimmerman lives in the Bronx, the mainland borough of New York City, and he always wanted to go home when the Cubs were in the metropolis. Chance permitted this. Evers refused to let "Heinie" live at home. So there was a clash every time the Cubs made New York.

I think it was on the last trip the Cubs made to the village that Wall street and Broadway have made famous that "Zim" went away from his hotel with "Larry" Doyle in the latter's car and just visited home. Then he telephoned Evers that he was sick and went out to the Polo grounds to take a look at the Giants play while the Cubs were showing in Brooklyn. Evers frothed at the mouth when Zimmerman met the Cubs on the train to Philadelphia. There were words and a fine.

The two temperaments do not jibe, and the chances are that Zimmerman will be traded this winter if the right kind of a deal can be framed up. He may come to the Giants. He is very eager to play in New York, and I know McGraw could handle him. Just because the change of scenery would do him good, I figure that he would be twice as valuable to New York as he would be to Chicago next season.

Konetchy is in a similar position. He is extremely dissatisfied with conditions in St. Louis. McGraw is also eager to get his "hooks" into the big first baseman. I do not know how far negotiations have progressed, but the chances are that "Koney" will be traded somewhere. "Connie" Mack is about the only chap who is not doing any trading. His ball players are all satisfied, too. "Connie" is certainly wise at handling them. He does not crack the whip. For instance, he lets them go home whenever the request is reasonable. Collins' parents live in Tarrytown. Every time he comes to New York he stays out there and "Connie" suggests it. And "Connie" gets results, too.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1908—Packey McFarland and Tommy Murphy fought 6-round draw at Philadelphia. This was the first meeting between the Harlem favorite and the "stockyards champion," and honors were even. They did not meet again until April, 1911, in a 10-round bout in New York, when Packey had all the better of the argument, although Tommy fought gamely. Their next session was in November, 1911, at San Francisco, where Packey got the decision after 20 rounds of hard fighting. Packey was easily the master, but Murphy finished strong. The Hibernian pair exchanged punches again in New York last month, and McFarland demonstrated his superiority throughout the 10 rounds.

1895—Joe Gans and Young Griffe fought 10-round draw at Baltimore.

1897—Tom Sharkey knocked out Joe Goddard in 6th round at San Francisco.

1911—Carl Morris defeated Bill Bass in 1 round at Philadelphia.

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty years.

Mr. James Wilds, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes:—"I was greatly troubled, a few years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can certainly give Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

THROW HAMMERS AT POLICE JUDGE AT OLD BAILEY

"Raving Women" Arraigned on Charge of Assault in Saturday's Onslaught.

London, Nov. 18.—Two bands of what Athur Hopkins the police magistrate described as "raving women" appeared in the police courts of London yesterday. They were charged with assault in connection with Saturday's outrage at the Old Bailey court when hammers were thrown at Justice Lawrence and with Sunday's disorders near Premier Asquith's official residence in Downing street.

The four women charged with assaulting the justice were sentenced to terms of from one to two months hard labor. In the Asquith case, Miss Boylieu and Mrs. Kerr were bound over to keep the peace, while the proceedings against Miss Murray and Boylieu were adjourned.

It was noticeable that the police took the precaution of depriving all women spectators of their baskets or parcels as they entered the police court.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 18.—The rock slide occured at Sea Bend Bluff, near Ruby Creek, at five o'clock Sunday morning, completely covering the double tracks of the Canadian Pacific railway with rocks, some weighing as much as 100 tons apiece. The track was buried 60 feet deep for a distance of 300 feet. A large force of workmen were rushed to the scene from Vancouver and dynamite is being freely used to remove the blockade. No trains were in the vicinity when the slide came down. It is expected that a temporary track will be built around the slide tonight. In the meantime passengers are being transferred afoot.

NO MORE ASTHMA A CURE DISCOVERED THAT REALLY DOES CURE

Thousands Testify to the Lasting Benefit Derived by This Marvelous Preparation.

The country is simply wild over the wonderful cures of chronic asthma that are being made every day by Catarrhozone. It is a scientific surprise, a perfect marvel the way it brings old chronics back to health. You will say so yourself after you have used it once, say so after the very first time. Ever since people first began to have asthma, Catarrhozone is certainly the best remedy discovered.

Creighton E. Thompson, well known in Calgary, writes:—"Nothing too strong can be said for Catarrhozone. I suffered four years from asthma in a way that would beggar description. I went through everything that man could suffer. I was told of Catarrhozone by a clerk in Findlay's drug store and purchased a dollar package. It was worth hundreds to me in a week, and I place a priceless value on the benefit I have since derived. I strongly urge every sufferer to use Catarrhozone for Asthma, Bronchitis and Catarrh.

The one-dollar package last two months; small size, 50c.; sample size, 25c.; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

FIRST THINGS

The first services held in Sa. Peter's at Rome, the world's most manificent church, took place 287 years ago today, when the edifice was formally consecrated. The building was commenced in 1506, and 120 years were required for its completion. It is 660 feet in length and 442 feet in its greatest breadth. The world-famous dome, devised by Michael Angelo, is 324 feet high, and contains 30,000 pounds of iron. The extreme height of the edifice is 432 feet. The front of the church is 400 feet broad and 130 feet high. St. Peter's occupies the legendary site of the martyrdom of St. Peter. The floor of the cathedral nearly covers five acres. The cost of the edifice is estimated to have exceeded $50,000,000. The first stone of St. Peter's was laid by Pope Julius II., and its construction continued during the reigns of Popes Leo X., Adrian VI., Clement VII., Paul III., Julius III., Marcellus II., Paul IV., Pius IV., Pius V., Gregory XIII., Sixtus V., Urban VII., Innocent IX., Clement VIII., Leo XI., Paul V., Gregory XV. and Urban VIII., and the building was completed and consecrated by the last named pontiff.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

On this date in 1755 an earthquake shock was felt in the Maritime Provinces and parts of Canada, the area of disturbance extending from Halifax along the coast to Chesapeake Bay, and in the interior, from northwest to southeast, more than a thousand miles. The seismic shock began shortly after 4 o'clock in the morning and lasted four and a half minutes, and was attended by "a rumbling noise and violent jerks, concussions and wrenches." In some places the earth opened, but the principal damage in Canada was in the fall of chimneys. The year of 1755 is memorable for its earthquakes. In April the city of Quito, in South America, was destroyed by a 'quake, and eighteen days before the North American disturbance Lisbon was destroyed, with a loss of over 50,000 lives, and many other cities in Portugal, Spain and North Africa suffered severely. The severest earthquake Canada has ever known occured in 1663, when it was recorded that "doors opened and shut of themselves, bells rang without being touched, walls were split asunder, floors separated and fell down; fields put on the appearance of precipices, and the mountains seemed to be moving out of their places." Midway between Quebec and Tadousac two mountains were levelled, and formed a point of land extending some distance into the St. Lawrence.

November 18 is the birthday of Hon. Francis Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals in the Borden government, at Clarenceville, P. Q., 1852. On this date in 1867 John Rose was appointed Minister of Finance. Sir Oliver Mowat, former Postmaster-General and Premier of Ontario and Dominion Minister of Justice, was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario on this date in 1897.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Thirtieth Birthday of Standard Time

Father Time's young offspring, Standard Time, was born 30 years ago today, Nov. 18, 1883, when the new system for measuring time was adopted throughout the United States and Canada. Charles F. Dowd, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was the father of standard time, having been the first to suggest the principles on which the system is based. Dowd's scheme, when put into effect, established six standard meridians for the United States and Canada, the 60th, the 75th, the 90th, and the 105th, the 120th and the 135th, each being the center of a region fifteen degrees wide within which the time conforms to one standard, while it differs one hour in each successive region. The various divisions are known as intercolonial, eastern, central, mountain, Pacific and Sitka time. When it is noon in the intercolonial time belt, it is 11 a. m. eastern time, 10 a. m. central time, 9 a. m. mountain time, 8 a. m. Pacific time, and 7 a. m. Sitka time. Intercolonial time is four hours, eastern time five hours, central time six hours, mountain time seven hours and Pacific time eight hours west from Greenwich, the central meridian.

Standard time which has now been adopted by nearly all civilized nations, is a great convenience to all, but especially to railroads and travellers thereon. Before the introduction of standard time there were nearly three-score standards in use in the United States and Canada. Local or "sun" time and "railroad time" differed widely, and in consequence railway time tables were much more harrowing compilations than they are now—although some people will say that this is impossible.

The true local time if any place is slower or faster than the standard time as the place is east or west of the time meridian. Thus, Boston's true local time is 15 minutes faster than eastern standard time, and Buffalo's is 16 minutes slower, the 75 time meridian being midway between Boston and Buffalo. The only important city in which local and standard time absolutely agree is Denver, which is on the 105th meridian, that of the mountain section. In Philadelphia the clocks needed to be set but 36 seconds faster to make local and standard time agree, as the 75th meridian passes close to the Quaker City. St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans local time also practically agree with standard time.

Prof. Charles F. Dowd published his standard time scheme in 1869. Sir Sanford Flemming worked out a somewhat similar scheme, but based on the 24-o'clock notation. The Dowd plan formed the basis for the system adopted on Nov. 18, 1883, but it was elaborated and adapted to the uses of the railroads by W. F. Allen, of New York, then the secretary of the American Railway Association. At noon of the day set there was a general resetting of watches and clocks, and standardized time became a reality.

Today is the anniversary of the death, in 1787, of Christopher Willibald Gluck, whose bi-centenary will be widely celebrated next year. The immortal regenerator of modern opera was born at Weidenwang in the upper Palatinate, near the Bohemian boundary, on July 2, 1714. Of his many operas, those now best known are "Iphigenie" and "Orpheus and Eurydice." His father was a hunter and a forester, and treated his sons with the utmost severity, forcing them to walk miles through the snow in their bare feet "to make the tough." Christopher was educated in the gymnasiums of Bohemia and in a Jesuit school, and later attended the university at Prague. During his college days he often walked through the country, singing and playing, and was paid in eggs and bread. Eventually he gained the patronage of powerful princes, and became one of the greatest composers of the period.

Montreal Produce.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—Butter is firm and fiarly active, finest creamery selling at auction yesterday at 28¾. Cheese is quieter, but firm. Exports for the week were 37,504 boxes as compared with 58,162 for the same week a year ago. Eggs active and firm.

Cheese: Finest westerns, 13½ to 13⅞; easterns, 13 to 13¼. Butter, choicest creamery, 28 to 28½; seconds, 27½ to 27¾.

Eggs, selected, 34 to 35; 1 stock, 30 to 31. Pork, heavy Canada short mess brls., 35 to 45; pres., 30; short cut back brls., 45 to 55; pres., 29.

Montreal Market.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Some strength and activity in the Montreal Tramways group provided the one feature in a languid market for stocks here yesterday. Following a sharp rise in the holding company security, Tramways and Power, which rose 2¾ to 40¾ in the unlisted department in the morning, Tramways common rose 4 to 194 in the listed market in the afternoon. Broken lost lots of the subsidiary companies issue touched 195 to high record price in the late trading and the close was strong at 194⅞ bid. Tramways debentures at the same time were firmer around ⅞.

The general market was dull to the point of stagnation. Leading issues liwe Montreal Power, Richelieu and Brazilian were dealt in to the extent of broken lots only. C.P.R., which ranked as the most active of the stocks, was represented in the day's business by a turnover of only 200 shares.

London Market.

London, Nov. 18.—The stock market opened weak yesterday, influenced by the Mexican situation, but recovered generally. Mexican Rails fell from 2 to 4 points and recovered about half the loss later on the repurchases, while home rails were strong o nthe better labor outlook. A small failure in the home rails section was ignored. Copper shares were weak with the metal, and consols fell 3-16ths owing to the monetary stringency. American securities opened weak with the other securities. First prices were from ¼ to 1¼ lower, but later in the forenoon the market hardened on covering. Trading was limited and of the session. Money was scarce and the fluctuations were narrow during the rest market borrowed from the Bank of England. Discount rates were firmer.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—With another influx of American cattle buyers yesterday, who bought several lots of stockers, feeders and grass calves, the market for butcher was active. Prices for the good stock are very stiff and choice cattle are very conspicuous by their absence. There is a very strong feeling in the market for lambs and supplies are scarce. Sheep are firm.

There is an easier feeling in the market for hogs and prices are 25 to 40 cents per cwt. lower.

There is an easy undertone to the market for the grass calves, owing to poor quality now being offered.

Receipts at the west end stock yards yesterday were: 7,000 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 1,000 hogs and 800 calves.

Last week's receipts at this yard were 4,000 cattle, 1,400 sheep, 1,900 hogs and 1,000 calves.

Butcher cattle: Good steers, 725 to 750; fair, 675 to 700; medium, 825 to 850; poorer grades, 500 to 575; butcher bulls, canning, 375 to 400; beef, 550; butcher, choice, 550 to 575; fair, 500 to 275; poor to medium, 500 to 425; canners, 240 to 385.

Sheep, 4¾ per pound. Lambs, 7½ to 7¾ per pound.

Hogs, selects, 975; good roughs, 960; sows, 775; stags, 500 cwt., all weighed off cars.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Cattle receipts, 26,000, market lower. Beeves, 665 to 955; Texas steers, 650 to 760; stockers and feeders, 480 to 750; cows and heifers, 320 to 810; calves, 650 to 750; hogs receipts, 48,000, market weak. Light, 740 to 790; mixed, 790 to 800; rough, 730 to 745; pigs, 500 to 710; bulk sales, 740 to 790.

Sheep receipts, 15,000, market lower. Native, 475; yearlings, 500 to 575; lambs, native, 550 to 700.

Toronto Exchange.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—The stock exchange was dull and generally easier yesterday, though no special weakness was manifested anywhere. Brazilian and Barcelona, the most active issues, which were strong last week, reacted fractionally on light selling. Brazilian declined to 83¾ and Barcelona to 29⅞.

Other dealings were largely confined to isolated transactions. Locomotive preferred sold 2 points lower at 86, a net low point for the year and a five share lot of Rogers pfd. at 103¾, also represented a new low for the year.

Wominion Steel was ¼ lower at 43. Canada Permanent, which advanced last week, fell back a couple of points, and Toronto Railway was one up at 139.

New York Exchange.

New York, Nov. 18.—Speculation was listless all day long, and except in solitary instances price changes were insignificant. The later hours were weaker, which carried down the leaders a point or so. A recovery came quickly, then there ensued a prolonged period in which traders did little more than wait for the sound of the gong which marks the close of the day. In the afternoon speculation was about as near extinct as it could be without actually closing the boardroom.

The coppers failed to benefit by the showing made in the fortnightly report of the European supplies, suffering a decrease of more than 3,000,000 pounds. Intermittent buying in Europe has comparatively no effect on the market on account of the stagnant conditions in the domestic market. Assets realization fell to 4. Officials of this company said they knew no reason for the slump. Bonds were easy. Virginia deferred threes were bid up 3 points. Total sales par value $1,615,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The late news from Argentina helped the market after an early upturn, the market closed ⅛ to ¼ lower. Oats showed a net rise of a shade to ⅛ to ¼.

Prompt check to a strong bull tendency in wheat came on reports that rains were ceasing in the northern part of Argentina. Fears that the near at hand harvest would bo hampered weer allayed and in addition to the easing thus given prices were lowered because of the liberal selling by influential houses, which put long lines of the wheat on the market at the attractive early bulge. The opening strength was caused no only by the fears of rains where none was needed, but by lack of it in the south, where drought was causing as much alarm as the wet in the opposite part of the republic. A large increase in the visible supply further encouraged the bears. Though oats hardened with corn, business was only moderate.

Winnipeg Live Stock.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—At the C.P.R. stockyards on Monday there was a fair demand for butcher's cattle. Prices were unchanged for all grades. Choice butcher steers were quoted 600 to 625; choice cows and heifers 525 to 550. Few bunches realized top quotations, the bulk of the supplies being medium and common quality. Calves and sheep were in fair demand. The hog market continues weak, top quotations being 800 per 100 pounds, with heavy contracts on roughs, stags and light animals.

MOTHERS!
DO YOU KNOW—

That when you put a salve onto your child's skin, it passes through the pores and enters the blood, just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach?

You would not put a coarse mass of animal fat, colored by various mineral poisons (such as many crude salves are) into your child's blood by way of the stomach? Then why do so by way of the pores?

Take no risk. Use always the pure herbal essences provided in Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk contains no trace of any animal oil or fat, and no poisonous mineral coloring matter. From start to finish it is purely herbal.

It will heal sores, ulcers, abscesses, eruptions, varicose ulcers, cuts, burns and bruises more quickly than any other known preparation. It is antiseptic, quickly stops the smarting of a sore or cut, cures piles, inflamed sores and blood-poisoning. It is a combination of healing power and scientific purity. Ask those who have proved it.

THROUGH THE HEART OF CANADA.

Among the recent successful books on Canada, that by Frank Yeigh, entitled, "Through the Heart of Canada," ranks high because it is a comprehensive treatment of the Dominion as a whole, but it is the work of a native born Canadian, and one who knows and loves his country well.

It was so well received that several editions were called for in Canada, the United States and Great Britain, and it has been out of print for some months.

In response to a steady demand, the publishers have issued a new and revised popular edition, at the reduced price of $1.25 which will no doubt ensure its still wider circulation.

It is published by S. B. Gundy, Toronto, and the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., Toronto.
